

Aren't you broken too? By Livia Harbach

What if Lucifer was just a broken boy

Denying God's grace

A dark angel with sunken wings

A black sheep

A heavy forgotten soul

What if he was just a lost kid

Like the rest of us

He is careless

But he does care

He cares about himself

And bringing us down with him

Because he can't bare to be alone

So calling him evil is cruel

Because aren't you broken too?
